This is an argumentative topic, give a counter argument.

Fire ashes and dark hazel black smog was sky high. The clouds of threat and hopelessness scattered everywhere. No chirping sound of birds could be heard. The living humans and their laughter were replaced with dead bodies and sighs. Homes of love and memories were now dust, sand and stone stockpiles. This dismal picture is not a dream but a reality. A short recall of what had happened in Hiroshima and Nagasaki due to brutal use of nuclear power. Which led one global power to take millions of lives, one of the misleading move to maintain nuclear balance of power. We haven't learnt from history and world is still divided in blocs and dependent on nuclear balance of power, which is leading world in misleading directions. There are numerous factors which are contributing in overdependence on nuclear balance of power. To create deterrence against enemy and to ensure security and national interest. To maintain hegemony, status regionally and globally. The escalation of arms races, technological advances, accelerating arms race, trust deficit, unresolvable conflicts, a loss of security dilemma for nations and these factors are leading world in misleading directions, nations forget the real purpose of building nuclear capacity
