Title: The Dream of Equality and Freedom

Martin Luther King in his speech of 1965 expresses his vision and dream of American nation. For that nation people will come out of differences and will gather under the umbrella of brotherhood. One day there will be oasis of freedom and justice in places where there was oppression once. People will be judged by their characters and not by their colours. There will be no hate speech and no hate mongering. The children from all colours and creeds will join hands and play together. And all the hurdles people face will be overcome. There will be no adversity among all, no black and whites, and there will be glory ~~among~~ for all. There will be only one principle of equality and justice. This was Martin Luther's hope and he had faith in his hope. For this faith would be responsible for the transformation of nation into a nation of harmony, peace, justice, and equality.

2.

Ans: The weapon was relatively inexpensive to produce, short and light to carry, and easy to use, with little recoil. It also boasted legendary reliability under harsh conditions ranging from waterlogged jungles to Middle Eastern sandstorms, in both extreme cold and heat. These qualities of the weapon made it a revolutionary rifle.

3.

Ans: The best inventions come during the time of crisis because it is when people face extraordinary, extreme, and out of normal conditions. In such conditions the need of many things arises. And as necessity is the mother of invention so, to fulfill the needs and requirements people take extraordinary measures and give their full potential. Thus many such times new and best inventions come. For example if Klashnikov had not experienced the advantage of superior firearms he would not have produced AK-47.

Ans: Those who carry guns usually are those following orders. And those giving orders look for their interests. Thus guns are used, regardless of what the inventor claim about their purpose, for the purpose to which the handler want them to be used. So the guns only made killing easy for those who wants to kill.

5.

Ans: M. Klashnikov lived long after the invention of his rifle. Seeing the effects and use of his invention by many criminals and terrorists his last words were a just some words to get rid of the guilt. As his invention made killing and violence very easy.

Q No. 7, Translation

The one who is always one step ahead progress the most. It is not his superior or system that offers progress but, progress is his fate. It should be our faith that Allah Almighty is the witness of our hard work and He will confer upon us. The rewards which cannot be granted by people as Allah Almighty always grant them. Our faith on this though should be as strong as do we believe in the physical existence of our body. Sheikh Saadi advises that, "Whenever you ask for anything to Almighty ask according to His glory not according to yourself". May be our value and integrities are too low but His glory will outshine ~~it~~ <sup>by</sup> ~~glories~~ <sup>glories</sup> much more. For Almighty has many ~~ways~~ <sup>ways</sup> and methods to confer upon His men.
