

Education and Effective Parenting

Parents are the blessings of God. They play an important role in development of their child. According to writer, education is the most important feature of parents for better growth of child. Educated parents develop good qualities in their children. The children succeed because of the teachings of their parents. The parents spend everything for the betterment of their younglings. So, it is ~~responsibilities~~ responsibility of the children to be obedient and to take care of their parents when they get old as nothing can replace the parents and their compassion for their offspring.
