

M. Nabesh

Translation

The world is full of such successful people who started their life in difficult circumstances, but after that they were in the list of successful and renowned persons in the world. Success, honour and fame are not given you in a plate; you can get just wealth in a plate. The condition for it that your forefathers should have property then you will get wealth. You can buy material things from wealth, but you can not buy happiness. Sometimes, a man earn honor by spending decades, but it takes one moment to earn disgrace or to become controversial person.