

Parents are Blessing

Parents play a crucial role in raising their children. They bring up their children with utmost care, love and kindness. Qualified parents make their children responsible of duties, dedicated towards work and loyal with homeland, through education which is a fundamental asset of a child. As parents spend all their time, money and attention to thrive a successful personality of their children; so it is responsibility of children to take care of their parents when they are weak by helping in daily work, taking to the hospital and arranging funeral according to religion, if anyone of them ceases.

Word count:

Words in original paragraph: 285

Words in precis: 98

Suggested Titles

Parents: An Irreplaceable Blessing