Translation

The world is full of successful people, who worked hard in the initial stage of life. Later on, they were included among renowned and well-knowns. Name, fame and honour ~~are~~^{is} never served on plate. Only wealth can be acquired on its own. On one condition if forefathers or grand parents had possessed. An individual can buy appliances and luxuries of life with the wealth but not happiness. It takes decades in earning honour and dignity. One moment is enough to be humiliated on account of controversy.
