All our life we are testing people. We keep looking for friends but on every step we encounter enemies. We have to search for friends while enemies are out there. The same question comes in mind that who is actual enemy. In every man's life there are twenties and hundreds of people. With those one have to spend life. We cannot live in isolation. Family, relatives, neighbors, community people, companions, and friends and many more are continue to be part of our lives. This is the matter of whole life.

Many people are not understandable even then we cannot live in isolation with them. Sometimes necessity and interests bound our relations with them.
