Parents are the gift of God. They both must possess some valuable features to profit the future of their kids. i.e. education. The educated parents make good citizens. In fact, victory of a child is a victory of his parents. Thus, parents' hand is behind the success of their kids. Moreover, educated parents dedicate their time and balance in making their children proud of their country. In return, children should also be obedient to their parents and should care of them in their old-age. To sum up, parents are utmost God-gifted.
