Q

History is full with <sup>such successful</sup> individuals who began their lives in arduous circumstance but eventually rose to become prominent and successful figures. Success, honor, and popularity are never served on a silver platter. Wealth is the only thing which can be handed to you on a platter, but only if your ancestors possessed property. You can buy worldly possession with wealth, but happiness cannot be bought. Sometime, it takes many decades for a person to earn honor, while it only takes one moment to make it controversial.
