

Title: Role of Educated Parents in the Upbringing of Their Children.

According to the writer, parent as a blessing perform different role for the upbringing of their children. Parents, specially educated mother plays important role for an efficient growth and progress of children to make them moral and successful person. The educated parents are the source of awareness in children because parents give full attention to their children. Therefore the children also have some duties to take care of their parents whenever they need and stay obedient. In short, no one can replace the parents. (84)