

History is full of such successful people, who have started their lives with extremely difficult situations. However, afterwards they become successful & famous personalities of the world. Success, respect & fame does not come to you without any hard work. ~~in this regard.~~

Only money can come to you without any hard work ~~sometimes~~. It is only possible in the condition when your ancestors have property, then you will have money without hard work.

You can buy worldly pleasures from money but ^{you can} not buy happiness.

Sometimes, ~~a person~~ respect, earned by a man in decades, is lost in one second and a man become disputed.
