

Title: Parents: pride of their children

Date: / /

Parents are the grace of God. They play a vital role in their growth. The main duty of parents is to provide education to their children. The teachings of educated parents make their children disciplined, responsible and loyal to the country and used all their resources to make them succeeded. Now, it has responsibility of children to look after their parents in the old age and make proper arrangement for funeral after their demise. Thus, there is no replacement of parents concerning their love, devotion and care.
