English Comprehension Test-3

- 1) Art is gradually fading away from our daily lives. It is not something which is being experienced by common men and is only being done by some painters and sculptors.
- 2) An artist is someone who is considered as a human being with special and distinctive characteristics. Whereas, a common man is he who is involved in physical activities. These activities require a lot of effort to do work.
- 3) By adding objects in our lives that give us pleasure and also have pretty designs of good taste, ~~it~~ satisfies our spiritual desire too by making our life beautiful and delightful.

4) According to the author, beauty is not a thing in life and also it is not in things made by men. Beauty is not only gaining satisfaction by objects and their designs but also it should be of good taste. Things that lack in beauty do not fulfill the true definition of beauty.

5) Art shapes objects just like actions are shaped by morals. Therefore, we have to identify it in objects and give it value just as morals are valued. Actions without morals are as distasteful as objects without aesthetics. Thus, I agree that art affects practical life while practicing art satisfies spiritual desire of a worker.
