

Question: 4 (Sentence correction)

- ② Few people attended the meeting.
- ③ Neither the father nor the son wear glasses.
- ④ She is beautiful than any of her sisters.
- ⑤ He has four sons but none of them is hardworking.
- ⑥ Neither of the roads leads to the station.

Question: 5 (B) Fill in the blank

① Pakistan is to the west of India

② she died of lung cancer

③ Send this letter to this address

④ I'd rather be single or in a bad relationship.

⑤

⑥ She said it to my face.

Question: G(A) Make Sentence

① Access, Excess

→ He has Access to the Parliament

→ Excess of everything is bad

② Minute, Minute

→ It took me 10 minutes to complete the quiz.

→ In programming minute mistakes can corrupt the software.

③ Tyre, Tire

→ I think the tyre is punctured.

→ The Tire of PM in Pakistan is five years.

④ Hew, Hue

→ This sculpture is hewn from this mountain

→ The rainbow shows many hues together

⑤ Waile, Whale

→ The child was wailing in the park

→ Whale is the largest animal of world

Question: 2 (Prac)

Title: ~~When art became a business...~~

Art, despite having cultural, religious origin has become a lucrative business and a mean of profit for businessmen.

It started long ago when markets were established to sell cultural icons like commodities. The naturally of selling art took its worst phase in 1980's. when Japanese market was at its peak. When ~~Billions~~ Billionaires invested millions of dollars for art masterpieces, like, Ryzei Saito purchased a Van Gogh's Portrait for ~~10 million~~ 6 million. And the painting ~~was~~ removed from museum.

That caused huge anger among peoples.

Later a museum employ made an ethical appeal that 'art should be the possession museum'. from here art was being developed into business.

Great art can only be certified by people.

Words required: 104 ± 10

Words achieved: 113

Question: 7 (Translation)

It is said ~~that~~ These have revolutionised the ~~books~~ world, ~~that~~ Sccholars choose these books according to their ~~will~~ and situation, But where some books have changed the world there are also some which mislead people and are cause of their misdirection. ~~It can be inferred~~ By a society from books printed by ~~any~~ Society that whether it will change the world or will bound society in outdated traditions, from this lense ~~if~~ we look at the books printed in Pakistan we find religious extremism, secretarian sentiments impecting mentalities of people. And this mentality ~~can be~~ Observed in Pakistani Society today.

Question: 3 (Reading Comprehension)

① Stauffenberg was a colonel who tried to assassinate Hitler by placing a bomb next to Hitler's seat in Prussian headquarters. But he failed to do so and got killed by Hitler's general.

② The movie Valkyrie succeeded to show most of the facts and plots but failed to convey sense of catastrophic, political events in which Germans were being drawn. not does it give much sense of Stauffenberg's background and philosophy.

③ The writer justifies Stauffenberg's plot to kill Hitler because at that time Germans were drawn to a situation like that. Plz answer the question writer sees the bravery of Stauffenberg.

bravery that knowing about low chances of success he attempted to assassinate Hitler.

④ Sentiments of bravery of Stauffenberg, patriotism of German people, and fighting for the cause of nationhood, and showing to the future that there was a better Germany. All these complementary sentiments have been invoked in the passage.

⑤ If Stauffenberg had survived the war he would have been successful in assassinating Hitler and today is known as the greatest agent of history and the destruction have been lessened by Hitler today.