Q Translation :

History is full of such successful people who started their life in extremely difficult situation, but with the passage of time, they became ~~world~~ successful and renowned personalities. Success, respect, and fame cannot be attained without effort, though wealth can be obtained without effort but for that there is also a compulsory condition that your ancestors should have sufficient assets - Only then ~~you~~ ^{one} will get wealth. With wealth, one can buy the material needs of this world but not happiness. Sometimes, it takes centuries for human or an individual to earn respect but it takes no time in ~~becoming controversial and disfavoured~~. History is replete with such successful people who began their lives in extremely difficult situations, but with time, they became successful and famous personalities. Success, respect, and fame cannot come to you on a platter; only wealth can be bestowed upon you if you have ancestral property. For this, it is also imperative that your forefathers have left you with some property, only then you can gain wealth. With wealth, you can buy worldly possessions, but you cannot buy happiness. Sometimes, it takes many years for a person to earn respect or fame, and it takes only a moment to lose it by becoming involved in a dispute or by committing a shameful act.
