

تم زندگی بھر دوستوں کو ہر گھنٹے ملنے سے - جس دوستوں کی تلاش رہی ہے مگر فرق نہیں پڑتا

ملنے سے - دوستوں کی تلاش کرنے پر ہے Missing

Solution:
We tend to test people throughout our lives. Our quest for companionship persists, yet adversaries/ enemy continue to cross our paths. The pursuit of friendship becomes imperative, while foes seem to be readily available. Thus, the same query arises in our minds: who, indeed, is the ultimate adversary? In the life of every individual, there exist scores of hundreds of people. To coexist with all of them becomes incumbent. We cannot live alone. Family members, relatives, neighbors, acquaintances, colleagues, confidants, and various others continue to become part of our lives. It is an enduring affair, wherein numerous individuals are unable to comprehend it, yet we cannot ignore it. At times, upholding relationships becomes an inevitable obligation dictated either by circumstances or personal gain.

ہر وقت - ہر اوقات محض عبوری یا معتمدی کے ساتھ ہی رہنا پڑتا ہے۔

We judge the people throughout life. We keep looking for friends, but we keep finding enemies instead by step. Enemies are available. After this some question is emerging on the screen of the mind that, who is the enemy? In the life of every human being, there are scores or hundreds of people. We have to live with all of them. We can't live alone. Family, relatives, neighbors, local people, co-workers, friends and many other people remain the part of our lives. It is a whole life affair. Many people don't understand, but still we can't avoid them. Often, the relationship has to be maintained only under compulsion or expediency.
