Title: Parents: A Name of God's Attributes

Parents are such beautiful creatures who perform their duty very well.

However, some implications distinguish their level of performance. Educated parents inculcate values in their children at home level which helps them to succeed at the world level. It helps to nourish them in an environment that eventually produces an intellectual and responsible individual. Afterwards, it's a children's duty to be careful about their parents when they <sup>go</sup> become in their elderly age. Their corresponding duties should be fulfilled. Hence, there is no alternative of parents' warm attitudes.
