Solution

Title: Role of Parents in Children's Upbringing

Precis:

Parents are blessings as they both play significant role in raising a child.

Therefore, they must have characteristics accordingly. Most importantly they ~~must~~ ^{should be} have educational as educated mother will raise an obedient and responsible child. Most successful people give credit of their success to their parents' teachings.

Qualified parents make their children an asset for a country. So, when they spend their money and time on their children, then children should also have to be obedient and to pay attention on them in their old age. They should fulfill their parents' needs. ~~shortly~~ there is no substitution of parents.
