who started their life with extremely difficult

History is full of ~~those~~ successful people whose ~~life~~ started with harsh circumstances but later on, they were considered amongst the world's successful and famous personalities. Success, honor, and fame is never served up on a plate, only money is served up on a plate. but even for that it is essential that you have ancestral ^{generational wealth} lands only then you'll ^{have wealth} have free money. you can buy worldly luxuries ^{with} by money but you can't buy happiness with it. Sometimes it takes decades for one to earn respect, however, only one moment is enough for one to earn disgrace or to become controversial.

over all there is room for improvement 7/10
