

Title: "

Role of Parents and Responsibilities of Children"

try to start sentence with a an the Parents, being the precious gift of God; render great services to shape the personality of their offsprings. The most important contribution of parents is to provide their children the "Education". All the achievements of children are due to the efforts of parents. Educated parents enhance the spirit of patriotism and responsibility in their children. Owing to the contributions of the parents, children should also show kindness and respect towards them; especially in their old age. Children should take care of their necessities of life as parents have no alternate.

Original Paragraph words = 269

content is satisfactory
over all basics are satisfied
9/20

Words in Precis = 95

main idea picked and discussed
title is acceptable