English Translation Test - III

We keep on judging the people whole life. We search for friends but find enemies at every step. Friends have to be found. Enemies are already available. ~~Again that question is~~. Again that question is emerging on the screens of the mind, Who is the enemy? There are hundreds of people in human life. He has to live his life with all of them. We can not live alone. Family, Relatives, neighbours, town people, friends and many other people remain a part of our lives. It is a life long affair. We do not have good understanding with many people still we cannot cut off our ties with them. Sometimes, one has to carry on the relationships just for the sake of compulsion and expedience.
