

Title: School of Thought on Education.

There are three school of thoughts in education which differs from each other. First group argues that children should be free regardless of their bad behaviour. Second group argues that children should be controlled regardless of their good behaviour. Third group argues that children should be absolutely free to ensure moral perfection. The writer disagrees with the last group, because those people think that education have no purpose except development, and it follows individualistic approach. One lives in a community because of co-operation of science and education. The male educators allow most freedom which depends upon several things. From Socialist point of view, education is more positive than a chance for development. Education provides paved a way for the character building of children which they cannot learn by themselves.
