'Aim of intellectual people: To serve'

To earn more money is not the prime objective of life for well-educated people. Although, they like to earn for healthy life but still their goal in life is far more better than just to seek money. Exempli gratia, the main goal of soldiers, clergymen & doctors is to win the battles, preach well & cure the diseases of patients, respectively. Thus, every brainy men like to serve first; money is the secondary thing.
