

"Preference of Work Over Money"

Money can never be the most important thing in a rightly qualified person's life. As food isn't the <sup>core</sup> important object in a physically healthy person's life, <sup>but the happiness earned by eating it</sup> in same way money isn't the object of central importance in mentally healthy person's life but the happiness earned by getting it.

For instance, soldier, clergyman and doctor like money because they earn it through their hardwork and bravery, but, money isn't the priority for them rather the happiness they get by performing their professional duties. Therefore, every well-qualified person prioritizes ~~money~~ work over money.
