Making money is a normal men desire, but for brave people perform their duty because they love it. For instance, For a good soldier winning the battle is more important than the salary he gets. The same is the with good Clergyman and doctors. For a good doctor, Curing the Patient would be a priority, not his fee. For all brave men and true professionals, their jobs comes first and economic gains come as a reward for their work.

Title; Money is Not Supreme; Duty.
