

① Making money, not a priority.

For all well-educated, intellectual and brave people, it is impossible to make money as their first priority, just like dinner, which is need but not a only objective of life. So one should enjoy making money.

② Making profession a passion.

A good Soldier fights well and his pay is his second priority. Clergy man's first objective is to preach rather than being paid for it. Doctor's first priority is to ~~care~~ <sup>treat</sup> his patient rightly and fairly.

③ Fee is second priority/work as first priority.

For all well-educated, brave and trained people, their work is their ~~second~~ first priority.

Precise:

Title: Work: A First Priority

For all well-educated, brave and trained people, their work is their first priority and fee is second. For instance, a good Soldier fights bravely and his pay is not very dear to him. Clergy men's main objective is to preach either he is being paid for it or not. Similarly a doctor's first priority is to ~~care~~ treat his patients and he donot take fee as first priority. So for all such people, work is their first priority, fee is second.
