

Idea not comprehended in first sentence.

Title: Work: chief object of life, ~~but not money~~

An educated person never ^{prefers} prefer money ~~over~~ ^{to} his intellect, but only a source of his food. However, a healthy person enjoys his food; hence, ^{he} enjoys pleasure of earning - not wealth ^{itself}. Likewise, a good soldier prefers victory and clergymen likes preaching, but not money as a chief aim of their life. Similarly, purpose of a doctor's life ^{is} to cure his patients, even to reduce his fee, but not to get only fee. Hence, all right and educated people prefer work over money.

(1/3 - 80 words)

Do not include examples in precis. Just give their gist.