

QUESTION #02

Diverse perspective on freedom

TITLE: ~~Merits and Demerits of Freedom~~
In Education.

PRÉCIS:

On question of freedom in education there are three main school of thoughts, some comes from differences as to ends and some from difference in psychological theory. ~~This does not convey any meanings~~
Some say that children should be completely free, no matter how bad they are; some say that children should be supervised, no matter how good they are and some ~~claim that~~ they should be free but they should also be good. The last party is larger than it's logic, the children will be like adults, meaning they can't be virtuous if they are free. The belief that liberty will ensure moral perfection is a relic of Rousseauism and would not survive the study of young and naïves. Those who hold this belief think rather education they should an environment for spontaneous learning

I do not agree with ^{much} this idea, which looks too on the personal level and different on the importance of education. We live in communities and require co-operation; such belief may not give the result from the co-operation. Plz ensure one third of original passage It is too lengthy are those who depend upon self-control and training which cannot generate the impulse of learning. Education must be more positive than growth of an individual. It must provide mental and moral knowledge which they cannot learn by themselves.

QUESTION #03

Question #1:

Happiness is important to most people because most of ^{them} struggle every day to eke out meager existence under dire circumstances. The relationship between material wealth and happiness is an opposite relation because having less makes us worry less about things.

Question # 2:

They characterize the concept of Voluntary Simplicity as a movement by telling which started as an experiment revolution evolved into a quiet evolution. Combined with growing awareness of environmental consequences of consumerism, the voluntary simplicity movement reduced the consumption of goods ^{and} energy to impact one's personal life. They characterize the concept as a philosophy by telling how one goes about it depend on individual character, cultural background and climate.

Question # 034

It is ~~found~~ ~~where~~ where advertising bombards us with the message that without this, that, and the other product, we are unsuccessful, undesirable and unimportant without being clear on what you need.

Question 3

It is feared that growing awareness of the environmental consequences of consumerism the movement reduced the consumption of goods and energy and to minimize one's personal impact on the environment

Question #5

To practice voluntary simplicity one face the challenges of differentiating between what one wants and what one needs and seek a balance that is compatible with both. The rewards are when we ensure conserving energy we are actually ensure more resources available in future. we can eliminate unnecessary expenses. In long run, a more expensive but a durable and repairable item or even an older item that is still in good condition will a better investment rather than new one.

QUESTION #04

a) His knowledge in languages and international relation aided him in his work.

b) This year he will appear in the CSS examination.

b) The ambassador along with his family and staff invites you to a reception at the embassy on a Tuesday afternoon.

- d) The Chief Executive will let us know whether he can attend the meeting or not.
- e) When he came back from vacation, Aslam and I plan to look for another apartment.

QUESTION #05 A

While taking a nap on the porch on a hot summer day, ^{nap,} Hodja dreamed that a stranger promised to give him ten pieces of gold. The stranger placed them in Hodja's hand one by one until he reached the tenth piece which he hesitated to give him. "Come on! What are you waiting for?" said Hodja, "You promised me ten⁴". Just then he woke up. He immediately looked at his hand and saw that it was empty. He quickly shut his again, stretched out his hand and said, "All right, I'll settle for ~~nine.~~" Nine

Capitalization is also part of punctuation

QUESTION #05B

- ii) she sat under the shade of the tree.
- iv) The burglar jumped over the compound wall.
- vi) I have been working hard on arithmetic.
- vii) He got to his bicycle. 5
- viii) It cannot be done by offence.

QUESTION #07

Was

The old man told that there is a mountain across the jungle where there is a flower whose scent brings back the light in the eyes, but the mountain is very high and it has many cliffs, thorny bushes and very big rock that blocks the way. That's why many came to climb the mountain and failed but no one has ever reached to the flower. Maybe that's why there is pain and sadness on this earth and every man is looking for the light.

Attempt in idiomatic and proverbial manner