

If the world does not beguile you to itself, if fear of Allah elicits tears in your eyes, if ~~imagination~~ concept of Hell engenders apprehension in you, if you worship Allah the way you should, if good deeds gravitate you to themselves, and your feet refuse to tread the path of misdeeds - then you are the guided one. Some are born guided, some become the one. ~~To be~~ It is fortunate to be guided one. It is an action of continuous analysis and observation. It takes time and also one has to suffer for it.
