

Precis

Making money can be a secondary object of well-educated men. However, he prioritize his service for humanity over his pay. Like a soldier is proud of his fighting for his country. He possess a little thirst for money. Besides, a clergy man wants to disseminate more information to his followers inspite of charging money. Likewise, curing patients is a choice of a good doctor. Nevertheless, money is important for them; works stands first.

Word Count = 75

Title:

Service: A priority of well-trained men.