

Name: Sahubhagata Tribuday Barcha

pre-Topic: - The true object of a brave and well-educated person's life.

The essay argues that while money is important, it should not be the primary focus of a well-educated and brave person's life.

The author suggests that one should enjoy making money but not prioritize it over their main mission in life, be it fighting battles, preaching, or curing the sick. By prioritizing their work, with payment being secondary, one can lead a fulfilling life. The author believes that money is a welcome bonus, but not the true object of a brave and well-educated ~~life~~ person's life.
