If the worldly life doesn't attract you towards itself, if there is tears in your eyes prostrate to fear of Allah, if the thought of day of judgement evokes fear in you, if you worship Allah like how it's meant to be, if good deeds attracts you towards itself, and your feet stop when walking down the path of bad, then you are pious. Some people are pious, while some become pious. To be pious is a good luck. And to become pious is a continuous purification of the self and struggle of one ownself. It takes time and one has to endure a lot of hardships.
