Title :- Passion ahead of money.

It is completely out of question for a well-educated, successful individual to prioritize money ahead of its work. These individuals like making money but above that they like winning in their respective fields. A soldier main goal is to win wars; a doctor end goal is to save lives and cure patients; and a clergymen objective is to preach people. Such is the case of all the courageous and accomplished individuals out there i.e. Work first, money second.
