

Title: Work prevails over Money

Indubitably, money is not the top-priority for the professional people: Well-educated, intellectual, or a brave man. Healthy minded people comply professional code of conduct rather than aiming for making money: Soldier, who wishes to win the battle first instead of being paid. Whether it be clergymen, who loves to deliver sermon instead of being paid. Either be a doctor, who desires to cure patients. Hence, for an erudite person work comes first.
