(Question-01)

Social media: curse or blessing

Social media is a revolution that has changed our lives in many ways both positive and negative. It has eased connectivity in our lives but complicated many other social issues. The new media platforms, which include Facebook, Twitter, Youtube and Instagram, have turned into powerful enablers of vast disinformation campaigns. Fewer efforts are seen on the part of administrators of these platforms in building honest and straightforward content moderation to control hate speech and disinformation on their platform against states, institutions and individuals.

The UK daily reported that social media-related crimes have increased upto 78 percent in the last few years. Social media and digital tools are an integral parts of our lives and are very productive. During the pandemic, social media was a helping tool for maintaining social support and getting updates related to the pandemic. The new culture working and learning from home and online delivery of commodities is again the kind of pandemic.

Social media if managed by laws or authorities it is blessing. Social media in the modern age has become a blessings and it should be checked by authorities to make it great blessings.
