"Money is Not Priority of Intellectuals"

Making money is not the only objective of well educated and intellectual person.

Although they like to earn money, but it is not the sole aim of their lives. There are multiple examples, for instance soldiers. The main aim of their life is to fight & win, but they are also glad of their pay.

Like wise clergyman's object is to preach essentially to preach not to earn. Similarly, a good doctor may sacrifice their fee for curing a sick patient. Hence for brave & Travel individual, money is not <sup>their</sup> first priority.
