

Money is not the main goal

It is not possible for accomplished men to make money the main object of their lives. Sane people should like the emotion of winning it more than the money itself. For example a good soldier, a clergyman and a doctor ~~like~~ like the idea of doing their job with passion and do not make money the main objective of their lives. Consequently, all devoted men give more importance to their work than money.