If the worldly life doesn't attract you towards itself, if their eyes prick to fear of Allah, if the thought of hell evokes fear of God, if you worship Allah like how it's meant to be, if good deeds attract you towards itself, and your feet stop when walking down the path of bad, then you are pious. Some people are pious, while some become pious. To be pious is a fortunate thing. Not to becoming pious is a process of continuous purification of the self and struggle of one oneself. It takes time and one has to enduring a lot of hardships. also requires
