Title of Precise : Relationship Between Working and Earning.

Money making is not the chief objective of well-educated man. In fact, money is important but work comes first. Different professionals have different objectives ⁱⁿ of life. For example, healthy people are more conscious of their diet than eating; a good soldier wishes to be a good fighter than well paid; the objective of a clergyman is to preach and earn all time; Doctor earns money but his main goal is to cure patients. Hence, ~~for all these and trained men,~~ work is more important than just earning a money.
