Translation:

If the world does not captivate you, if your eyes get teary due to God's fear, if imagining hell frightens you, if you worship God the way you are ^{supposed} entitled to, if virtue allures you towards itself, and your feet stop ^{Keep from treading} on the way of sin, then you are pious. Some are pious, ^{and some} ~~few~~ become pious. Being pious is a fortunate thing. To become pious is a process of consistent sanctification and endeavor. ^{and requires facing difficulties.}
