

Title : WORK COMES FIRST & MONEY SECOND

an intellectual person

A person with an intellect and courage does not consider money as a sole ~~important~~ element for living. Although, he likes money, but his duty is above everything. As ~~healthy~~ people like dinner, but dinner is not what they are targeting for. Similarly, good soldiers, responsible clergymen and dedicated doctors like money, but their work comes first. Hence, for a professional person his responsibilities are his priorities not money.

where is the word count precise is under the required word limit main idea is picked

title is not satisfactory

content is also average need improvement in expression 6/20