

TOPIC:

"Women remains on the losing side in professional life."

1. Introduction.

Thesis Statement: There is no doubt that women has always ^{lost} and still loosing the battle of professional life because of the discrimination and inequality and this will always remain the same if not given equal opportunities and representation.

3. Women struggle of professional life in the past upto now.

4. Women on the loosing end.

- The professional culture is still male-dominated.
- Women are ^{still} not given equal opportunity.
- Women are ^{still} considered weak and emotional.
- Women are ^{still} not trusted with higher positions or responsibility.
- Women still has to balance her personal as well as professional life.
- Females are still paid less than man for the same amount of work.
- Ratio of educated girls is still very low.

5. How the females can helped to win professional battles

- Gender Equality should be promoted in work environment.
- Equal opportunities should be given.
- Instead of considering women weak they should be trained.
- Women should be evaluated on the basis of output rather than assumptions.

e. Ensure that women ~~get~~ is paid equally as men.

f. Job appointments should be merit based.

g. Girls' education should be promoted.

6. Conclusion.

The story of women struggle in her professional life is the same as that of 'Cinderella', unchanged. Although, in past few movies of Cinderella there are few changes like Cinderella trying to be independent and wanting her own identity but the plot remains the same. She still lose a show and the prince still finds her and they both get married. Similar is the case of women and professional life story, women did get some recognition and rights but the old story of scuffle remains the same. Women still is dominated by man, is not given equal responsibility or higher position, considered weak, paid less, burdened by personal life and is deprived from education. Therefore, it is very vital to give females equal opportunities, higher responsibilities and status, should not be considered weak, paid equally and given education. Hence, there is no doubt that women has always ^{lost} and still losing the battle of professional life because of discrimination and inequality, this will always remain the same if not given equal opportunity and representation.

Upto this time women struggle of professional life has not ended and is still a losing battle. Women fight for equality and professional autonomy is centuries old. Due to the struggle of females they did get many of their rights and social status but unfortunately, they still are losing this war of professional life just like they were in the past.

One of the main reason of women loosing was ~~and~~ is the male dominated cultural environment. From the very beginning male was the sole breadwinner of the family, hence having all the authority in home and in office. Therefore, women dominating the ~~profession~~ is not accepted by this gender and still try to dominate women and does not let her win.

In addition ^{to} office culture being dominated by men, women are also not given equal opportunities as men. Women has always been considered minor and given low jobs, due to which they still do not get equal opportunities as men and remains at the loosing of the war.

One of the major reason of not giving equal opportunities to women is that they are considered weak and emotional. It is also related to their biological structure as well that they cannot do high labour jobs or the jobs which requires practical mindset. As a result, women end up being suppressed.

Due to the mindset that women are weak and emotional, they are also not trusted with high ~~pos~~ authoritative position. It can be seen that in the parliament the number of women is not even half of the number of men. Hence, they do not get a say in any big decision and upto date women are underrepresented.

Another important reason for women's loss is that women have to balance both personal and professional life. Up to the present time women are expected to do all the home chores even if she has a professional life. Balancing both these worlds takes up too much energy, which is the reason why females cannot fight their professional battle with all her might and ends up losing that battle.

Apart from the ^{old} cultural norm that women has to maintain her house, ~~are~~ another social taboo ^{that has not changed} is that girls should not be educated after a certain limit. This increases the number of uneducated girls in the society. ~~They~~ either get married or even if they get a job it is not of high status. Resultantly, women gets undermined.

The story that is told from the centuries and has not changed does not mean that it cannot be changed. Women can also win this fight if the centuries old cultural male dominated environment is changed and women are also given a say in the important decision. Hence, to change this old culture gender equality should be promoted.

Along with changing the mindset and being gender equality it is also very important that women are given equal opportunity as men. There should be same amount of quota for women and same safe ~~and~~ opportunities.
So, that women can also get a chance to prove their abilities. Therefore, equal opportunities for women should be promoted in office.