Answer:

In the Passage to the whirlwind of technological revolution, we humans complicate our lives instead of seeking refuge in simplicity. Machines do much of our work: calculators relieve the toment of arithmetic, computers store our knowledge. Are we thereby less worried, less (~~etc~~) exhausted, better organized and happier? if we are more comfortable, live longer and suffer less physical pain. we resign ourselves to the steady growth of complexity.

"Q2"

we cannot go backwards, but perhaps we can profit to some extent from the wisdom of our ancestors.

③

Here, at random are five prescriptions which might, to a limited extent, help stem the tide. We should insist the communication be simply and clear. English has a wide range of expression. It is the language of superb poetry, in verse and prose; it is the language of science and business. It contains plenty of short, concise words. We should upbraid the inventors of new long words and declare ambiguity & disgrace.

(Shahab told me, when will your essay book be ready Hasan Ali Hordol?)

(Shahab) Hasan Ali Hordol asked me Shahab, when will your essay book be ready?

Shahab told me I believe, at the end of november.

Hasan Ali Hordol told me so what, the deal? The competitive exams market is already full of essay stuff. what's special about yours?

(8)

Shahab told me I speak only about the international standards followed in essay writing that I were taught at Christ Church University during my one year teachers training course. My book follows the same standards. Moreover, it includes different practice activities rather than ready-made content for examining.

Hassan Ali Borden suggested me if it is so, then it gonna clear most of the his conceptions about essay writing.

Q. No: 02

Courage, physical and moral, a general undoubtedly must have. Voltaire praises in Marlborough that calm courage in the midst of tumult, that serenity of soul in danger, which is the greatest gift of nature for command! A letter military writer, who had to great admiration for Jobbe, was compelled to admit that his stolid calm and obstinate determination in the darkest days of the retreat had an influence which offset many of the grave strategic blunders which he committed. The judgment and experience of riper years, if the mature mind still has the capacity to conceive and to absorb new ideas, to withstand unexpected shocks, and to put into execution bold and unorthodox designs, its superior knowledge and judgment will give the advantage over youth. At the same time there is no doubt that a good young general will usually beat a good old one; and the recent lowering of age of our general is undoubtedly a step in the right direction even if it may sometimes lose us prematurely a good commander.
