A) Punctuate the following passage:-

Robert Whiting, an elderly US gentleman of 83, arrived in Paris by plane at French Customs. He took a few minutes to locate his passport in his carry-on. "On you have been to France before," Monsieur, the Customs officer, asked sarcastically. Mr. Whiting, admitted that, he had been to France previously. Then you should know enough to have your passport ready. The American said the last minute time, "I was here, I did not have to show it." Impossible, Americans always have to show their passports on arrival in France, sneered the Customs officer. The American senior gave the Frenchman a long, hard look. The he quietly explained, "Well, when I came ashore at Omaha Beach, at 4:40 am, on D-Day in 1944, to help liberate your country, I could not find a single Frenchman to show a passport to.... You could have heard a pin drop".

Shahab replies that he believe at the end of November.

Hassan Ali Gondal asks what the deal is. The competitive exams market is already full of easy stuff and further asks what the special about your book is.

Learn the rules of narration and attempt again

Shahab replies that he speaks only about the international standards followed in essay writing that he was taught at Christ Church University, during his one year teachers training course. He further says that his book follows the same standards, moreover, it includes different practise activities rather than ready-made content for cramming.

Hassan Ali Gondal says that if it is so, then it is going to clear most of the misconception about essay writing.
