

English Precis

Q3) Read the following passage

1) Answer: We humans complicate our lives rather than seeking simplicity, being exposed to technological revolution. Machines do much of our work i.e. calculators relieve the torment of arithmetic for us, computers store our knowledge.

2) Answer: In the passage, the writer refers to the "wisdom of our ancestors" referring to the communication being simple and clear. The English language having a wide range of expression, being a language of poetry in verse and prose and also being the language of science and business. It contains plenty of short words and we should upbraid the inventors of new long words and declare ambiguity a disgrace.

3) Answer: The "New Tower of Babel" refers to the nuclear bomb whose chief designers and builders are the Americans. As the Tower of Babel was the symbol of immense power, so the new one must not be used by any misinformed person.

4) Answer: The implied example from the passage is the revival of convention that parents hide their worries from their families. The writer's opinion is suggesting that bottling things up is not always harmful.

5) Answer: The writer implies that exercising our reasoning power and measure of choice serves the purpose of restoring sanity amidst the challenges of the modern world. The writer suggests we should spend more time looking inwards to see whether we can recognize within ourselves an element which no technological revolution and change can pollute.

Q4) Correct any FIVE of the following.

- f) My mother forbade me to smoke.
- e) If only I could go back in time!
- g) Many a child dreams about being famous one day.
- d) I have been preparing for CSS exams since last October.
- c) We had better leave before the police arrive.

Q5) A) Punctuate the following.

Robert Whiting, an elderly US gentleman of 83 arrived in Paris by plane. At French customs he took a few minutes to locate his passport in his carry on. You have been to France before, Monsieur? The Customs officer asked sarcastically. Mr Whiting admitted that he had been to France previously. Then you should know enough to have your passport ready. The American said, ~~that~~ The last time I was here I didn't have to show it. Impossible, Americans always have to show their passports on arrival in France," sneered the Customs officer. The American senator gave the Frenchman a long, hard look. Then he quickly explained, "Well, when I came ashore at Omaha Beach, at 4:40 am, on D-Day in 1944, to help liberate your country, I couldn't find a single Frenchman to show a passport to..." You could have heard a pin drop.

Application of punctuation rules in line

Q5 B) Re-write the following sentence

- 1) A drowning man catches at a straw.
- 2) On the night before the exam, he was seen pouring through the books.
- 3) The man was blind of his left eye.
- 4) In some countries, much of the natural environment has been transformed into farmland.
- 5) Mr. Hawking was walking through the wood on a rainy day.

Q6) Idioms in your own sentences

- 1) Cold shoulder: He was ~~shown~~ given a cold shoulder at the party by the organizer.
- 2) Scape goat: Ali was the scape goat while the rest fled the scene.

3) Sitting duck: They kept sitting duck while gunshots were being heard.

4) Out of the blue: Out of the blue, his father showed up to the school reunion.

5) To come full circle: The trend of baggy clothes have come full circle after the rise of Instagram influencer modelling.

Q6) B) Direct into indirect

Hassan Ali Gondal greeted Shahab and asked when ~~would~~ his essay book be ready. When his essay book would be ready, saying he believed it would be ready at the end of November. Hassan Ali Gondal inquired about the uniqueness of Shahab's book in the competitive exam market, to which Shahab explained that it contained international standards of essay writing which he had learned at Christ Church University. Moreover, it contained ~~different practice~~ activities rather than ready-made content for cramming. Hassan Ali Gondal expressed that if ⁴ this were the case, ⁵ the book ~~will~~ clear most of the misconceptions about essay writing.

Falls under generation z

Q7) Translation.

Tens of millions of Pakistani youth come under Generation Z. This generation has been born after the year 2000 and are 22, 24 years of age today. In all of human history, this generation is the most physically weak and mentally ill to be the most technologically advanced. The time in which they are raised is the most technologically advanced in all history. They have grown up using technology and have in their possession, internet, mobile phones, tablets, TVs and other electronic devices. They are raised not by elders rather by social media. The problem with this generation is that they have a short temper and less patience. They are the most physically malnourished and are taking the most time to be independent.

Q2) Precis

Title: "Essential Qualities of a Military General: Courage, Age, and Experience"

Precis: The passage highlights the attributes of a military general, placing a significant emphasis on the need for both physical and moral courage. Voltaire's admiration for Marlborough's calm amidst tumultuous situation is noted. The importance of health in a general is acknowledged but as a relative quality. It does not contain any meanings as a contentious issue; with historical examples showcasing both young and seasoned commanders.

achieving success. The narrative concludes by reflecting on the challenge of balancing the fire and boldness of youth with the experience and wisdom in leadership. The recent inclination towards the lower age of generals is seen as a positive stride forward, despite having potential drawbacks, encapsulating a comprehensive exploration of the intricacies of effective military leadership.

It is repetition

English Precis

Q3) Read the following passage

1) Answer: We humans complicate our lives rather than seeking simplicity, being exposed to technological revolution. Machines do much of our work in the form of automation, the torment of arithmetic for us, computers store our knowledge.

2) Answer: In the passage, the writer refers to the "wisdom of our ancestors" referring to the communication being simple and clear. The English language having a wide range of expression, being a language of superb poetry, in verse and prose and also being the language of science and business. It contains plenty of short words and we should uphold the inventor of new long words and declare ambiguity a disgrace.

3) Answer: The Green Tower of Babel refers to the nuclear bomb whose chief designers and builders are the Americans. As the Tower of Babel was the symbol of immense power, so the new one must not be used by any misinformed person.

4) Answer: The implied example from the passage is the revival of convention that parents hide their worries from their families. The writer's opinion is suggesting that bottling things up is not always harmful.

5) Answer: The writer implies that exercising our reasoning power and measure of choice serves the purpose of restoring sanity amidst the challenge of the modern world. The writer suggests we should spend more time looking inwards to see whether we can recognize within ourselves an element which no technological revolution and change can pollute.

Q4) Correct any FIVE of the following.

- f) My mother forbade me to smoke.
- e) If only I could go back in time!
- g) Many a child dreams about being famous one day.
- d) I have been preparing for CSS exams since 1st October.
- c) We had better leave before the police arrive.

Q5) A) Punctuate the following.

Robert Whiting, an elderly US gentleman of 83 arrived in Paris by plane. At French customs he took a few minutes to locate his passport in his carry on. "You have been to France before, Monsieur?" The Customs officer asked sarcastically. Mr. Whiting admitted that he had been to France previously. "Then you should know enough to have your passport ready." The American said, "The last time I was here I didn't have to show it." "Impossible, Americans always have to show their passports on arrival in France," sneered the Customs officer. The American soldier gave the Frenchman a long, hard look. Then he quietly explained, "Well, when I came ashore at Omaha Beach, at 4:40 am, on D-Day in 1944, to help liberate your country, I couldn't find a single Frenchman to show a passport to..." You could have heard a pin drop."

Application of punctuation rules is fine

Q5 B) Re-write the following sentence

- 1) A drowning man catches at a straw.
- 2) On the night before the exam, she was seen pouring through the books.
- 3) The man was blind of his left eye.
- 4) In some countries, much of the natural environment has been transformed into farmland.
- 5) Mr. Hawking was walking through wood on a rainy day.

Q6) Idioms in your own sentences

- 1) Cold shoulder: He was ^{given} ~~shown~~ a cold shoulder at the party by the organizer.
- 2) Scape goat: Ali was the scape goat while the rest fled the scene.

3) ~~Sitting duck~~: They kept ~~sitting duck~~ while gunshots were being heard.

4) Out of the blue: Out of the blue, his father showed up to the school reunion.

5) To come full circle: The trend of baggy clothes have come full circle after the rise of Instagram influencer modelling.

Q6) B) Direct into indirect

Hassan Ali Gondal greeted Shahab and asked when would his essay book be ready. Shahab replied, saying he believed it would be ready at the end of November. Hassan Ali Gondal inquired about the uniqueness of Shahab's book in the competitive exam market, to which Shahab explained that it contained international standards of essay writing which he had learned at Christ Church University. Moreover, it contained different practice activities rather than ready-made content for cramming. Hassan Ali Gondal expressed that if this were the case, the book will clear most of the misconceptions about essay writing.

Q1) Translation.

Tens of millions of Pakistani youth come under generation Z. This generation has been born after the year 2000 and are 23, 24 years of age today. In all of human history, this generation is ~~the most physically weak~~ ~~and~~ thought to be the most physically weak and mentally ill. The time in which they are raised is the most technologically advanced in all history. They have grown up using technology and have in their possession, internet, mobile phones, tablets, tv's and social media. They are raised not by elders rather by social media. The problem with this generation is that they have a short temper and less patience. They are the most physically malnourished and are taking the most time to be independent.

Q2) Precis

Title: "Essential Qualities of a Military General: Courage, Age, and Experience"

Precis: The passage highlights the attributes of a military general, placing a significant emphasis on the need for both physical and moral courage. Voltaire's admiration for Marlborough's calm amidst tumultuous situation is noted. The importance of health in a general is acknowledged but as a relative quality. The age of a general is explored as a contentious issue, with historical examples showcasing both young and seasoned commanders.

achieving success. The narrative concludes by reflecting on the challenge of balancing the fire and boldness of youth with the experience and wisdom in leadership. The recent inclination towards the lower age of generals is seen as a positive stride forward, despite having potential drawbacks, encapsulating a comprehensive exploration of the intricacies of effective military leadership.