Robert Whiting an elderly US gentleman of 83 arrived in Paris by plane at French customs. He took a few minutes to locate his passport in his carry on. "You have been to France before, Monsieur," the customs officer asked sarcastically.

Mr Whiting admitted that he had been to France previously. "Then you should know enough to have your passport ready." The American said, "The last time I was here I didn't have to show it. It's impossible Americans always have to show their passports on arrival in France." Sneered the customs officer. The American said, "I gave French man a key, had bot. Then he quietly explained, "Well, when I came ashore at Omaha Beach at 4:40, to help liberate US country, I couldn't find a single Frenchman to show passport to." "You could have had a pin drop."
