

Question #3

(i) We, humans, are complicating our lives in multiple ways. Humans are making communication discourse not only fancy but also ~~incom~~ ambiguous. Moreover, the rising culture of unnecessary tension-taking is also hampering our lives. In the same way, ~~race~~ ^{Race means unnecessary communication} is another pernicious aspect of modern time. Lastly, excessive noise pollution is causing mental and emotional disturbances. In these ways, the humans are ~~complicating~~ ^{Have complicated} their lives.

(ii) The writer believes that modern societies should capitalize on the wisdom of ancestors. He narrates the example that parents of this era should revive the ancestor's convention that parents absorb the mental worries from the families. He presents another example that like ancestors' methodology of learning, children should be encouraged to read books many books and develop analytical abilities.

3. 'The new Tower of Babel' refers to the glory of American people. The chief architects of this notion are American statespersons.

It refers to complexity in language

4.

Psychologists and sociologists are suggesting that in a social circle, friends and family members should relieve mental fatigues of each other. However, the writer emphasizes that like our ancestors, parents should disguise the worries from their families.

5. The writer implies that humans should exercise reasoning powers and measures of choice to reflect upon the change all around us. He suggests that humans should spend time on their souls and recognize within ourselves a part of personality that is not polluted with technological changes.

Question # 4

c. We had better left before the police arrived

d. I have been preparing for CSS exam since last October.

e. If only I were go back in time.

f. My mother forbade me to smoke.

h. The culture of our country is richer than that of any other country in the world.

a. Hardly did he reach the station than it began to rain.

Question #5 (A)

Rober Whiting, an elderly US gentleman of 83, arrived in Paris by plane at French Customs. He took a few minutes to locate his passport in his carry. "On you have been to France before," Monsieur, the Customs officer asked, sarcastically. Mr. Whiting admitted that he had been to France previously. "Then you should know enough to have your passport ready." The American said the last time I was here I didn't have to show it. "It's impossible. Americans always have to show their passports on arrival in France," sneered the Customs officer. The American senior gave the Frenchman a long, hard look. Then, he quietly explained, "Well! When I came ashore at Omaha Beach, at 4:40 AM, on D-Day, in 1944, to help liberate your country, I couldn't find a single Frenchman to show a passport to... You could have heard a pin drop."

Application of punctuation rules is fine

Question # 5 (B)

1. A drowning man catches a straw
2. Cyber-attacks are much easier to carry out than to defend from
3. He felt no qualms borrowing money from his friends.
5. The man was blind his left eye
7. In some countries much of natural environment has been transformed into farmland.

Question # 7

~~Millions of young Pakistanis belong to Z-Generation. This generation has been born since ^{the} 2000 and now its age is 23 or 24. This generation is considered the physically weakest and frail, and psycholog~~

psychologically impaired
Question # 7

This generation is considered the most physically weak, frail and psychologically impaired among all generations of the history. It has experienced upbringing in that era which has witnessed the greatest use of technology of all times. This generation's growth has come under the guise of technology. Internet, mobile phones, tablets, T.V channels and social media are under their control. Social media, not the elders, has trained this generation. This generation around the globe has just one problem that it is intolerant and anger filled. Their physical health is impaired. Moreover, this generation is taking some substantive time to consolidate itself.

Plz do not compromise on original meanings of the passage

Question #2

Dilemma between young and experienced person ^{Attributes of a good commander} for commanding

Courage is a vital for commanding in challenging times, and even sometimes ~~share~~ of courage covers the strategic blunders in the battle field. Moreover, health is also an important factor, but it is not a prerequisite of a great spirit. As far as age-factor is concerned for commandship; history indicates that young age reaps greater dividends for commanders. However, old-aged generals had also depicted extraordinary competence during wars. Another fact is that many great commanders were victorious owing to their joining of service at early years. Therefore, it is difficult to judge the more valuable between boldness of youth and experience of years. In this context, experienced, yet dynamic person, having who can absorb new ideas and bear brutal surprises can be preferred over over the young person for commandship.

However, a young leader can beat
an experienced person over for leadership;
therefore, lowering of age-limit for generals is a U can also write names of commanders to prove your point positive development.

Total words: 512

Precis words: 168