~~Young People are Much Able Than Old Ones Now A-Days~~

Attributes of a General

Voltaire praises in Marlborough that calm courage in the midst of tumult, that serenity of soul in danger, which is the greatest gift of nature for command. One of the ancient Roman poets ~~has~~ ^{Have pointed out} pointed out that the scandal of old men at war and old men in love. On the other hand, Julius Caesar and Cromwell began their serious soldiering when well over the age of 40; Marlborough was 61 at the time of his most admired manuvre, when he forced the Ne Plus Ultra lines; Turenne's last campaign at the age of

It is too lengthy

WE must remember, in making comparisons, with the past, that men develop later now-a-days; for instance, Wellington, Wolfe, Moore, Craufurd were all commissioned at the age of about 15 years, and some of them saw service soon after joining. At the same time there is no doubt that a good young general will generally beat a good old one; and the recent lowering of our generals is undoubtedly a step in the right direction, even if it may sometimes lose us prematurely a good commander.

Question no. 5:

Answer: Mr. Whitting, an elderly US gentleman of 83, arrived in Paris by plane. At French customs, he took a few minutes to locate his passport in his carry-on. "You have been to France before, Monsieur!", the customs officer asked sarcastically. Mr. Whitting admitted that he had been to France previously. "Then you should know enough to have your passport ready." The American said the last time I was here I didn't have to show it. "Impossible, Americans always have to show their passport on arrival in France," sneered the customs officer. The American senior gave the French man a long, hard look. Then he quietly explained "Well, when I came ashore at Omaha Beach, at 4:40 am, on D-Day in 1944, to help liberate your country, I couldn't find a single Frenchman to show a passport to... You could have heard a pin drop."
