Q-NO-7:-

The life objective of a student to have is extreme affection for one's teachers and books, that could lighten up the dark paths of life for one. The completion of this objective require focus and and persistence. Every external influence that is contradictory to this objective, should be kept completely separated from the literary circle. In other case, it is feared that the education of the student would be left incomplete, and the precious time that should be spent in love of knowledge, would be ~~spent~~ wasted only in political activities. Instead of political workers, our country needs scholars and thinkers who are well versed collectively in eastern education, western education, religious education and worldly education at a time. It is evident that such people of collective knowledge can come into being only when political factors are not interfering <sup>with</sup> educational activities. It is said that our educational quality is lower than that of the western countries, and, at some extent, it is due to our financial situation. <sup>Maybe,</sup> It is not wrong to say that most of our teachers <sup>have</sup> failed to <sup>have</sup> spark the love of knowledge within the students. However, major portion of responsibility is upon the student.
