Q2: Precise:

"Evil of Beggary"

Beggary has become a profession in India. The existence of the large number of beggars is portraying a negative image of the holy cities and foreigners called these, 'the city of beggars'. The religious belief about the charity and the ignorant masses are fueling this evil. Many of these beggars are able-bodied persons faking their appearances, some has inherent nature of begging and exploiting the ignorant people by cursing them. The educated people are now concerned in eliminating this evil. But awareness to the uneducated segment of society and laws should be implemented to minimize this evil. In west Beggary is considered as crime by law. We need of making it clear to the people that this habit can only lead to idleness and poverty.

In short, beggary has become the most wide spread evil.

Q.1: The main responsibility of a student's life is to keep the teachers and books as a priority which will light his journey of life. Consistency & persistency is required in this regard. The external forces which are creating hurdles in this way should be separated, otherwise the fostering of a student will be incomplete. Instead of spending his time in seeking knowledge, he would be involved in false politics. Our country needs scholars instead of politicians who have grip on all the fields like eastern education, western education, religious and worldly education. Such a brilliant scholar can only be raised when the politics is kept outside the education domain. It is said that our system of education is backward as compared to western education and this might be the result of our weak economic conditions. and this might be true that our teacher doesnot make it interesting for our students but the main responsibility goes of backwardness goes to students
